16 The proposal amounts to the grant of a fresh Inam to a new temple. Under the Standing orders such grant is permissible only in cases of temples built in villages newly brought into existence — The temple in question does not seem to come under this category. Para 273 of the new Rev. M.

17 Since the assessment of all resumed Devadaya Inams is credited to the Muz funds, a grant may be given to the new temple in question if the Muz Dept considers that the institution is deserving of help from Govt.

It is no wonder that the D.C. has held the enquiry. The previous reference quoted in the letter dt. 22.2. were available at the time. the Maharaja of Mysore, Muzrai Department.

Sir,

With reference to your letter No.C 619/Muz.317-21-2 dated 22nd November 1921 forwarding for report the petitions from Ganapathi Sastri and others, I have the honor to submit herewith the Vernacular papers ending with the Hoskote Sub-Division Officer's No.H.D.407 of 21-22 dated 11th December 1921 and to state that the old temple built by the petitioner's father near bathing ghat of the tank at Nelavangala was in ruins and the petitioner got it repaired by the help of the villagers, and installed therein the idols of Sri Chandramouleswara Swami and Pattabhirama Swami, as already reported in this office No.S.859, dated 21st April 1914.

2. The present permanent income to the temple is too small even for Nitya-kaile Puja. It is not supplemented by temporary public charities and the services are satisfactorily conducted. It is also reported that the temple is resorted to by all the Hindu Bhakties.

3. As the temple is a private institution having no sufficient means of support and cannot depend upon the temporary private charities for ever, the petitioners pray that the Inams (Lands and Cash as detailed in the margin) which the Mahanthamath at Gundakonna was enjoying and which has been made in C.O.No.2888-7/Muz.190-20 dated 4th April 1921, to be resumed to Government, as the object of the Inam grants failed, may be conferred on the temple in question.

4. I inspected the temple last month, and found that besides the applicant Ganapati Sastri, the townsmen generally were eager about the endowment being granted in favour of the temple. The building has been repaired and is in good condition, and being situated in the town and adjoining the tank, is resorted to by large number of worshippers. Regular worship is being conducted and the institution is deserving of help.

In these circumstances, I have no hesitation in recommending that the endowment now prayed for, as detailed in the previous paragraph, may be granted to the temple. Government will be pleased to observe that this necessitates no extra cost, but only the transference of the endowment of a religious institution in the same Taluk, which has ceased to exist, to another which has been restored, is maintained in good condition, and is resorted to by worshippers in the town.
